

Nancy Normal Murdered Carleton Comet With a Knife

By: Nic Brandis, Collin McGarty, Adam Muzzarelli, Taylor Boothe

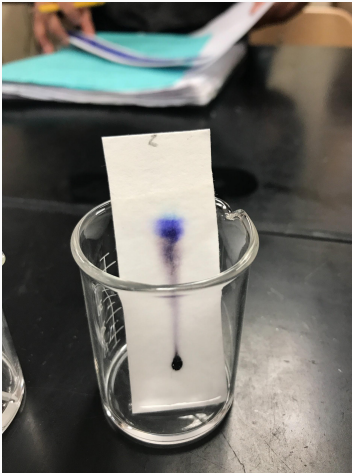

First Piece of Evidence + Reasoning

- Nancy Normal's fingerprint matched the one at the crime scene
 - Found by fingerprinting fingerprints found at the crime scene
 - Crime scene fingerprints matched Nancy Normal's

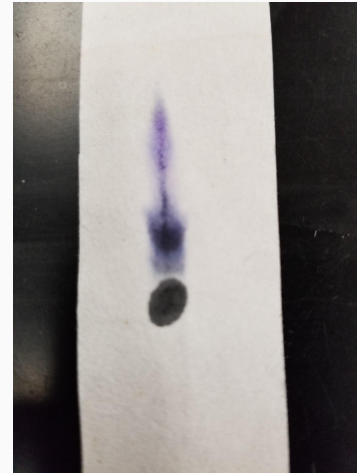

Second Piece of Evidence + Reasoning

- Nancy Normal and Sam Sophomore used pen #2 to write the note
 - Found by using rubbing alcohol to see the color of the ink after it rose
 - Pen #2 matched the one used to write the note

Pen #2:
Nancy and
Sam

The pen used for the note

Third Piece of Evidence + Reasoning

- Crime Scene 2 with the blood types was type A, which matched Teresa Terra and Nancy Normal
 - Tested blood type of each person by seeing which blood type curdled when mixed with the antigens for A and B
 - Crime Scene 2 was type A
 - Nancy Normal and Teresa Terra were type A

Fourth Piece of Evidence + Reasoning

- Nancy Normal's DNA fingerprint color matched Crime Scene 2
 - Used gel to determine fingerprint color and pattern of each person and the crime scenes
 - Crime Scene 2 was red and yellow
 - Nancy Normal's pattern was red and yellow

Fifth Piece of Evidence + Reasoning

- Crime Scene 2 and Nancy Normal both had Triple X Syndrome
 - Given evidence of many chromosomes
 - Nancy Normal had Triple X Syndrome
 - Crime Scene 2 had Triple X Syndrome

Sixth Piece of Evidence + Reasoning

- Tony, Nancy's father, had Huntington's Disease, and Nancy inherited it from him
 - Nancy Normal had Huntington's Disease, which results in problems with mood and mental abilities
 - More likely to murder someone

Motive + Evidence + Reasoning

- Thomas Sandstone murdered Nancy's cousin, killed her father and led her aunt to depression in a mental hospital
- Carleton Comet recently changed his name (from Thomas Sandstone), claims to have many children, and just got released from prison for murder
 - Thomas Sandstone is Carleton Comet

Charge

- Nancy Normal should be tried for first degree murder
 - She intentionally killed Carleton Comet
 - First Degree Murder: any intentional murder that is willful and premeditated with malice aforethought

The End!